

REFINING AND PETROCHEMICALS

Bracewell's lawyers have extensive experience in all aspects of downstream oil and gas operations, including refining, marketing and distribution. We advise refining companies on a broad range of agreements covering operations, processing, tolling, joint facilities use, utilities, co-generation, personnel, services, cost sharing, product sales, crude oil and other feedstock purchases, interfacility feedstock, and product exchanges.

In addition to financing based on oil and gas assets, Bracewell advises oil and gas clients on a full range of standard transactions, including:

- acquisition, divestiture and restructuring of midstream assets
- acquisitions and divestitures of producing and non-producing properties
- exploration and development agreements
- operating and service agreements
- drilling contracts
- farm-outs
- gas processing, purchase and transportation agreements
- oil and gas leases
- pooling and uni