In 1945, Bracewell & Giuliani opened its first office in Houston, Texas. As the firm has grown across the United States and abroad, our headquarters have remained in this vibrant, commercial center of the Southwest. We serve local, national and multinational corporations, municipalities, and educational and not-for-profit institutions, providing full-service counsel in virtually every area of law. We have particular strength in the energy, financial-services and telecommunications sectors of the economy.
